General Statement On Appeals

An appeal is a request to have a decision of the designated ordinance administrator reversed or modified in the event that the ordinance administrator has made an error in the administration, interpretation, or enforcement of the Cherokee County Land Development Regulations Ordinance. Therefore, in order to file for an appeal, an applicant must allege that the ordinance administrator has made an error in the administration, interpretation, or enforcement of the ordinance, must identify the specific provision or provisions of the ordinance for which it is alleged that the enforcement officer's actions are inconsistent, and must provide a statement to support the allegation that the ordinance administrator is in error.
